

AUTO STRIKE STILL UNSETTLED

EJECTION SIT-DOWN STRIKERS DELAYED; UNION READY ACT

FLINT, Mich., Feb. 4.—(P)—Roy E. Brownell, attorney here for General Motors, said this afternoon "I believe the union will ask its men to leave the plants peacefully" and announced he would defer filing petition for a writ requiring their ejection.

His announcement came after Police Chief James V. Willits had received a letter from several hundred "reserve police" to remain on call for a possible emergency.

Brownell said the writ would not be filed pending the outcome of strike peace conferences between high General Motors officials and labor leaders in Detroit.

Enforcement would devolve upon Sheriff Thomas W. Wolcott, who had refused to attempt forcible ejection of the men without such an order.

Police Chief Willits said his "enlistment" of "reserve police" did not constitute a violation of a non-violence truce reached last night between city authorities and the United Automobile Workers of America.

Ordered to Remain On Call.

The chief said he was not mobilizing his "reserves" but instructing them to remain on call for duty at any hour to "maintain law and order." He said he expected to appoint 1,000 men by nightfall but they would be instructed to remain in their homes until—and unless—needed.

"If the situation gets out of hand, I will have no hesitation in using them," he said. "Those who do not possess arms will be supplied with weapons. The men are being selected carefully and will be men who have been in the service of the city at heart."

He declared there was no connection between his enlistment of "reserves" and any attempt to evacuate the strikers from the plants. That evacuation, he said, is "up to the sheriff."

Declined To Discuss Plans.

Sheriff Wolcott declined to discuss his plans for enforcing the sit-down.

The bullet-pierced body of Dr. J. C. B. Davis (above), 65, prominent country doctor of Willow Springs, Mo., kidnaped a week ago for $5,000 ransom, was found by officers early Wednesday and a Department of Justice agent said a 20-year-old youth was held in the slaying.

YOUNG FARMHAND DECLARES ANOTHER WAS SLAYER DOCTOR

WEIRD TALE OF BEING FORCED TO WRITE RANSOM NOTE IS TOLD

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 4.—(P)—A young farmhand charged with first degree murder in the kidnap-killing of Dr. J. C. B. Davis insisted today the 67-year-old country physician was abducted and slain by a mysterious hill-country acquaintance he dubbed "Nighthawk."

The slaying, 20-year-old prisoner, Robert Kenyon, who led officers to the doctor's bullet-torn body in a thicket near Willow Springs, Mo., yesterday, clung stubbornly to his alibi "Nighthawk" forced him to write and mail a ransom note.

Held in solitary confinement here for safe-keeping before his arraignment, Kenyon said he never had seen the doctor, Willow Springs, Mo., who was kidnaped and slain by a mysterious hill-country acquaintance he dubbed "Nighthawk."

Garbed in oversized coveralls and munching hungrily a meal of scrambled eggs and bacon, the youth recounted his weird story in typical rustic idiom to officials and newsmen.

"This 'Nighthawk' feller knowed I stole a motor car over by Fella, (Mo.)," Kenyon drawled. "He said if I didn't write the ransom note he'd turn me in."

"So I done it. Then the feller caught me in the postoffice mailing it."

DEMAND CARPENTER RESIGN FOR SPEECH BEFORE LEGISLATURE

AMENDMENTS ADOPTED BILL MAKING PARDON BOARD SETUP EFFECTIVE

AUSTIN, Feb. 4.—A statement by Orville S. Carpenter, director of Texas old age assistance, that pensioners should not be allowed to vote backfired in the legislature today.

Rep. Clarence Farmer of Fort Worth introduced a resolution inviting Carpenter to resign but immediate action was deferred.

The pensions director made the statement during questioning by the state affairs committee of the house of representatives about operations of old age assistance.

Farmer charged Carpenter had "insulted" the people of Texas but the director quickly was defended by other representatives, who said he had done an excellent job.

The senate endorsed the bill by Senator Gordon Burns of Huntsville, making effective the constitutional amendment creating a new pardon board, and probably will take final action tomorrow.

It tabled an amendment by Senator A. M. Alkin, Jr., of Paris, which would have prohibited members of the legislature from practicing before the board. The vote was 16 to 7.

Other amendments approved included:

Removal of members of the board to be made by legislative impeachment, instead of by the governor for cause, as originally proposed.

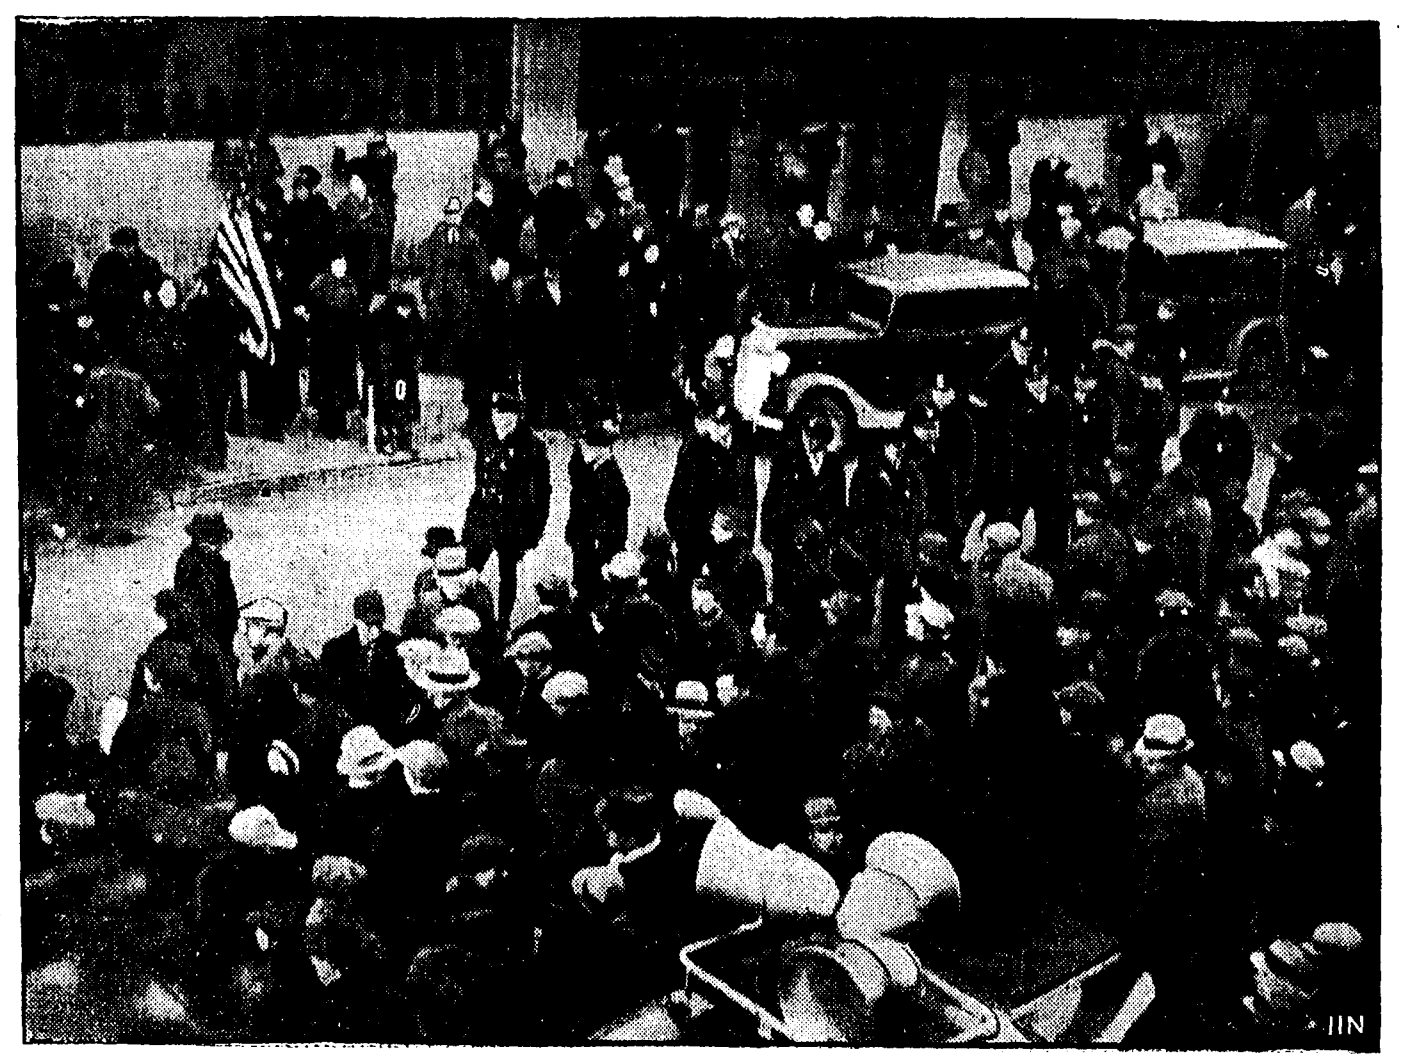

Requiring the governor to file with the secretary of state for public record his reasons for not granting clemency to a convict.

The bill already required him to give the reasons for granting clemency.

The senate also adopted a resolution inviting Secretary James H. Hargis to address the legislature, despite some opposition. A constitutional amendment to abolish the ad

TWELVE HURT AS WORKERS CLASH WITH PLANT POLICE IN FLINT

In a 20-minute skirmish between company police and union workers, 12 persons were injured at General Motors Chevrolet plant No. 8 in Flint, Mich. Ten of the victims were said to be unionists and two were company guards. Tear gas bombs were fired and many windows were broken in the plant. The fighting followed reopening of several plants by General Motors.

GOVERNOR MURPHY RESUMES EFFORTS TO END AUTO STRIKE

DETROIT, Feb. 4.—(P)—The conference seeking a truce basis in the General Motors automotive strike recessed for luncheon at 2 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time) today. William S. Knudsen, executive vice-president of General Motors announced the meetings "were not over."

DETROIT, Feb. 4.—(P)—Gov. Frank Murphy pressed his efforts in a prolonged conference today to find a truce basis in the General Motors automotive strike while the corporation temporarily withheld a request for an eviction writ against "sit down" strikers whose continued occupancy of two Flint body plants has blocked all efforts at a settlement.

At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon Governor Murphy had been in conference more than three hours with representatives of the corporation and of the committee for industrial organization and the United Automobile Workers of America.

As the conference was seeking a basis for peace negotiations Police Chief James Willits at Flint resumed the deputizing of "police reserves" but emphatically declared the action was not a "mobilization of vigilantes." In this he was supported by Mayor Harold Bradshaw, who said "Flint is holding to its truce agreement of last night 100 per cent. The men are being deputized, but they are not being issued arms. Arms will not be given them until a grave emergency requires it."

"Flint," said Willits, "wants no repetition of the Herrin, Ill., massacre. We want a force available capable of coping with any emergency."

Parks Auto Over Mississippi And Jumps to Death

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 4.—(P)—A man parked his automobile on the big Huey P. Long bridge early today, left the lights burning and the radio playing and jumped 120 feet to his death in the muddy Mississippi river.

P. D. Hebert, a state patrolman, said all signs pointed to the identity of the man as Allen Montz, 26, of LaPlante, La. Hebert was related to Montz.

Relatives could assign no reason for the plunge.

Local Oil Deal Involves $45,000; 118 Wells Bought

AUSTIN, Feb. 4.—(P)—Properties of the Houston Oil Company in the oil-rich Corsicana field, including 118 producing shallow wells, have been purchased by Coffield and Guthrie, Inc., of Rockdale for a cash consideration of approximately $45,000.

The deal was announced by Coffield and Guthrie, Inc., about 95 per cent of the field, property of the Barnsall and Magnolia companies having been acquired in the past three years.

HOUSTON, Feb. 4.—(P)—George A. Hill, Jr., president of the Houston Oil Company of Texas, confirmed today the sale of his company's shallow producing properties in the old Corsicana, Texas, oil field to Coffield and Guthrie, Inc., of Rockdale, Texas.

The cash consideration involved totaled $45,000. The sale involved 118 shallow wells. The Houston company retained all mineral rights below 1250 feet and some acreage in fee on which royalty was involved.

SPANISH INSURGENT LEGIONS START PUSH TO CAPTURE MALAGA

By The Associated Press.

Spain's insurgent legions—on land, water and in the air—started today a "big push" against Malaga today in an effort to slip off that strategic Mediterranean shipping center from the remnant of government-held Spain.

A comparative hush fell over Madrid's battlefronts, 200 miles to the north, while practically every available fascist facility of men or machines was shoved toward Malaga.

An insurgent naval fleet steamed against Algeciras in the direction of Malaga. Nine bombing planes left Spanish Morocco to join Gen. Queipo de Llano's southern army drive.

A Malaga dispatch reported an insurgent submarine bombarded a vital road linking Malaga with government territory to the west.

Madrid officials, however, contended the drive of De Llano's land forces had been halted on a coastal road leading toward Malaga from the southwest and that

ENGINEERS REMAIN CONFIDENT IN FIGHT MISSISSIPPI FLOOD

ADMITTED, HOWEVER, DANGER LURKS AT EVERY BEND FOR 1,000 MILES

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 4.—(P)—The tide of battle against record flood crests ran favorably along the upper Mississippi today but engineers cautioned that the fight to save the valley from untold disaster was not yet won.

Army engineers directing the nation's greatest anti-flood offensive remained confident of victory but pointed out the crests now pressing Cairo, Ill., will hit hundreds of miles of burdened, untested levees before they reach the Gulf some two weeks hence.

Danger lurked at every bend in the 1,000-mile sweep from Cairo to New Orleans and there was no relaxation of effort among the 120,000 pick and shovel laborers working day and night on the embankment protecting the South's fertile farm lands.

Cairo's struggle was far from ended and the situation at Hickman remained critical. The worst of the river's rampage remained ahead for Millwood and Ferguson, in Arkansas, and the secondary levee system in northwest Tennessee awaited its most serious test.

However, crest waters flowed by Cairo with full three feet of seawall left on the city's flood defense. The fall of the Ohio at Paducah further cheered the embattled city, evacuated by all except flood fighters.

Stationary from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m. yesterday, the Cairo gauge registered 59.59 feet, while at Hickman a stage of 51.38 feet use this year.

Find Fortune In Hovel Of Woman Almost Starved

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 4.—(P)—Officers sought an additional $20,000 today in the hovel of a starved Mrs. Anna Miller, 54, while the emaciated woman lay in a hospital bed instead of on a jail cot.

Detectives found $45,407 in the dirty cottage when Mrs. Miller shared with chickens and cats. Officers made the discovery after the woman mumbled of burglars trying to break into the house, "and you can see I have nothing here they could steal."

She was transferred to a hospital last night, after a physician, after Dr. A. E. Lein, county physician, expressed the opinion she was sane, but needed care.

Dr. Lein reported the woman said officers must have overlooked $20,000 if $45,000 was all they found.

Paul Gieser, bank employee said: "Often she came into the bank with her purse bulging with money to buy government bonds, and she would look carefully around before she opened it."

SELECTION OF JURY BEN WIDENER CASE STARTED THURSDAY

DEFENSE MOTION FOR CONTINUANCE OVERRULED BY JUDGE HOWELL

Selection of a jury in the trial of Ben Widener, charged with murder, started in the Thirteenth judicial district court Thursday morning after District Judge Wayne R. Howell had overruled a defense motion for a continuance on the grounds of the absence of a material witness.

The state's attorney announced ready for trial Wednesday morning when the case was first called.

From the questions being propounded to the special veniremen Thursday morning, the state will not seek the death penalty, while defense counsel's questions to prospective jurors indicated that self-defense may be relied upon.

It was stated that the defendant would plead not guilty when arraigned.

A special venire in addition to the regular panel was on hand Thursday morning. A number of witnesses and interested spectators were in the courtroom Wednesday and Thursday morning.

Widener was indicted in connection with the fatal shooting of Alvin Gregory in Corsicana, Jan. 1, 1936.

A half dozen veniremen had been questioned by the attorneys.

Four Occupants Newspaper Plane Are Found Dead

BELFAST, Ireland, Feb. 4.—(P)—An airplane owned by a London newspaper was found by a shepherd today near Newton Stewart, Scotland, wrecked and burned, its four occupants dead.

The plane, carrying two newspapermen and a photographer in addition to the pilot, had been unreported since it left Glasgow, Scotland, early Tuesday, en route to Liverpool.

The men had been making a survey over a new air route recently suggested by a parliamentary committee.

They were:

Harold Pemberton, 47, a son of Sir Max Pemberton, the novelist, motorist and aviation writer for the London Daily Express.

T. H. Philpott, aviation radio expert and chief wireless operator for Lord Beaverbrook, the newspaper publisher.

Reginald Charles Wesley, 24, a photographer for the Daily Express.

Capt. L. T. Jackson, the pilot.

SUITOR ON SIT-DOWN STRIKE TO FORCE SWEETHEART TO MAKE UP HER MIND ABOUT MARRIAGE

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., Feb. 4.—(P)—Harold Hulen, who began a sit-down strike yesterday in the lobby of his sweetheart's apartment house because "she couldn't make up her mind," showed no sign of weakening today.

"I'm a desperate man," he explained candidly. "I'm here to stay until she makes up her mind."

Hulen, 30-year-old former actor, moved into the lobby of Miss Florence Hurlbut's apartment house yesterday, attached himself to a radiator with a dog chain and padlock and gave the key to the apartment house manager.

"I asked Florence to marry me," he explained. "She said she couldn't make up her mind. She has repeated that same thing twice every week for the last year."

"Now, I'm here, and I'm not leaving until I get an answer."

Last night, Miss Hurlbut dozed in a chair near her suitor until a late hour, then retired to her apartment. Hulen read a magazine and then slept, leaning back against a pillar in the hall. Earlier he had repeated that same thing twice every week for the last year.

"You know I love you Harold," she said, "but you can't have a strange way of showing affection for me. Please unchain yourself and get off the floor."

But Hulen only puffed away at a cigarette and kept his position on an inflated rubber cushion.

His meals were brought to him on a tray. For diversion he read a magazine and played solitaire.

COMPARATIVE HUSH FELL OVER MADRID BATTLEFRONT AS DRIVE OPENED

CROP EXPERTS PLAN TO PEEK BENEATH SOIL TO DETERMINE GRAIN PRODUCTION THIS YEAR

By FRANKLIN MULLIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—(P)—Crop experts will peek beneath the soil to forecast grain production this year—a method born of recent droughts.

Bernard W. Snow, former assistant secretary of agriculture, hit R. I. Mansfield, both associated with a Chicago grain house (Bartlett Frazier Co.) disclosed today the crop forecast method which they said would be in large-scale use this year.

Snow, dean of Chicago crop authorities, said the method involved detailed analysis of rainfall records and the systematic application of this knowledge of subsoil moisture conditions in predicting crop output. It stresses the importance of subsoil moisture.

Snow and other Chicago observers repeatedly have "called" crop developments weeks before they became apparent to laymen. They predicted last year's serious grain losses during the drought.

His latest moisture statistics, which undoubtedly will be used to judge progress of the winter wheat crop now growing in the southwest, indicate only limited subsoil moisture in many sections.

Snow's record, compiled from weather bureau statistics, systematizes a comparison of current rainfall and normal rainfall, making it possible, he said, to evaluate at a glance the departure of the current season from normal conditions as rapidly as it occurs. Thus, he said, it furnishes an invaluable check upon the soundness of judgment displayed by crop reporters, whether official or private, when they report conditions.

Talking Pictures Be Used In Trial Of Murder Charge

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—(P)—Police took talking picture equipment into superior court today for the first time to present evidence in a murder case.

Robert Hayes is on trial, charged with killing Carl Munroe last November 26 after Munroe accused him of stealing a chicken for a Thanksgiving dinner.

Police said the talking pictures would show Hayes' demeanor after his arrest and present his answers to questions asked him at that time about the killing.

JOBLESS INSURANCE NOW PROTECTS BIG PER CENT WORKERS

EIGHTY PER CENT OF TOTAL NUMBER COMING UNDER LAW NOW LISTED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(P)—The social security board estimated today that unemployment insurance protection is now afforded to 17,943,000 wage earners.

This represents 80 per cent of the total expected when all states conform. It was said, and the industrial states of Delaware, Illinois and Missouri account for about three fifths of the workers not covered. The board said if the legislatures of the states named enact the insurance in the sessions now under way.

The board said state laws show certain common trends but also indicate the latitude allowed states in meeting their special needs under the security act.

Of the 23 laws passed since July 20 provided for employer contributions only.

Although Wisconsin established a separate fund for each employer, set aside to aid his own men when they are jobless, 82 states used a "straight pooled fund."

PRESIDENT PLANS LONG-TIME PROGRAM COMBAT DROUGHTS THAT BESET GREAT PLAINS AREA

By EDWIN B. HARRISON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(P)—President Roosevelt, having just recommended long-time planning to combat floods, set himself today to invoke that principle against droughts.

While congress began to digest his proposal for an over-riding $500,000,000 public works program, he studied another report designed to protect the great plains areas from the devastation of 1934 and 1936. It may go to the Capitol in the next few days.

Support for a flexible six-year construction program, embracing curbs on rivers and presented as preparedness, was evident there.

Similarly, the administration counted on sympathy for a 20 to 25-year program to prevent the drought and dust-storm center from becoming an "economic desolation."

Democrats cited economists' estimates that the latest Ohio and Mississippi overflows would cost business in that territory $600,000,000.

Other losses due to damaged homes and the necessity for relief millions had yet to be estimated. Officials said 300,000,000 tons of rich topsoil was washed away.

Experts who studied the last two droughts for the President said the relief costs exceeded $500,000,000. Their proposals, aimed both to offset nature and make the 2,500,000 farmers in the area self-supporting, were expected to include:

An immediate survey of the interior, extending from Canada to Western Texas, to map plans for

A. P. (GUS) YOUNG DIED ON WEDNESDAY FUNERAL THURSDAY

PIONEER CORSICANA BUSINESS MAN VICTIM OF INFLUENZA-PNEUMONIA

Funeral services for A. P. (Gus) Young, aged 68 years, 1112 Summit avenue, pioneer business man of Corsicana, who died at the Navarro Clinic Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock following a short illness with influenza, were held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the First Presbyterian church with burial in Oakwood cemetery.

The rites were conducted by Rev. W. R. Hall, pastor of the church, with Corsicana Lodge No. 63, IOOF, in charge at the grave.

Mr. Young was born in Alabama, but had resided in Corsicana since childhood. He was engaged in the lively business for many years, and for the past few years was in the freighting business. He was known and respected by a large circle of friends and acquaintances and was affectionately hailed by young and old as "Uncle Gus."

valorem tax on real estate was introduced.
The senate was in session about an hour, adjourning until tomorrow, while the house likewise did little. The lower chamber, after the hour for consideration of resolutions, including that by Rep. Farmer, killed a bill by Rep. Rawlins M. Colquitt of Dallas, providing for newspaper notice of legal postings on doors of courthouses.
More committee hearings were set for the afternoon and night.

Farmer Offers Resolution.
AUSTIN, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Representative Clarence E. Farmer of Fort Worth introduced a resolution today "inviting" Orville S. Carpenter, state old age pension director, to resign his position on the condition that pensioners should be prohibited from voting.
The period for consideration of resolutions expired without any action being taken and the representatives by a large majority refused to extend the period.
Farmer charged Carpenter's opinion, expressed in a committee hearing yesterday, was an insult to people of this state who have done much for it. He termed the utterance "undemocratic, uncharitable and un-American."
The proposal's resolving clause stated that the director's resignation was "hereby invited, if not demanded."

Rep. A. T. McKinney of Huntsville rose to support the proposal, asserting "it does not lie within the province of the legislature to condemn an outsider for his private opinion."
"Orville Carpenter has done a mighty good job," McKinney said. "He was one of the best appointments Jimmy Allred ever made."

Shouts of "aye" greeted the latter statement.
Extension Gas-Oil Conservation Sought
AUSTIN, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The house of representatives had before it today a recommendation Texas oil and gas conservation laws be continued another four years.

The oil and gas committee reported favorably last night a bill by Rep. George Davidson of Eastland to extend proration to September 1, 1941.
The lone dissenter was Rep. Penrose Motcote of San Angelo who charged West Texas oil fields had been "militated against" by proration.
Davidson held present conservation measures were working well and was joined by Rep. Roy Tennant, Jr., of Longview, who said proration benefitted small operators in East Texas. Affairs committee neared final action on proposals to liberalize old age pensions. It heard from Orville S. Carpenter, acting director of old age assistance, the assertion that persons who accept assistance should be denied the voting privilege.
His statement was in answer to a question as to how legislators could avoid re-election if they returned home without liberalizing pension qualifications.
Carpenter said he believed the present law a good one and hoped it would not be altered.

He estimated the pension rolls would be stabilized at between 85,000 and 105,000 persons and officials would complete next month a re-investigation of recipients.
The revenue and taxation committee planned early action on Rep. Herman Jones' bill to levy a 5 per cent franchise tax on net incomes of corporations.

Ikkes Invited to Address Legislature
AUSTIN, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Secretary of the Interior Harold Ikkes was invited today over opposition in the senate to address the Texas legislature.
A proposal to suspend constitutional rules to adopt immediately a resolution by Sen. Houghton Brownlee of Austin was protested by Sen. T. J. Holbrook of Galveston and others.

"Isn't he the man who thought he should have control of all production?" demanded Sen. Weaver Moore of Houston.
Senators Joe Hill of Henderson and Gordon Burns of Huntsville also voted against the resolution. Ikkes was asked to appear at his convenience, following a visit to San Antonio, February 17.
A resolution asking Postmaster General James A. Farley to address a joint session during the week of March 8 following a visit to Waco was passed unanimously.

HUNTINGTON, INDIANA, MAYOR BACK IN JAIL BUT FINDS SOME ADVANTAGES IN THIS SITUATION

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Mayor Clare W. H. Bangs, whose warfare with utility companies threatened today to keep him in jail until his term as mayor expires two years hence, isn't worried about the prospect.
Jail life—he's had two terms of it—has its advantages, he said with a smile.

The 47-year old mayor, who now is conducting the affairs of his office from a cell in the county jail, listed some of them:
"I've learned the difference between a straight and a royal flush."
"Governing the city has been much easier. I have ample time to consider things. There are no salesmen and job seekers to bother me."
"I have a lot of time for reading and writing—and pinocchio."

Augustine Celaya of Brownsville. One would comprise Nueces county only and the other Cameron, Wilkey, Kennedy and Kleberg counties. Parts of the districts would try both civil and criminal cases.

Income Tax Bill Introduced.
AUSTIN, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A second income tax bill was introduced today by Rep. Odie A. Weldon of Mabank. The rate on individuals would be graduated from one to seven per cent and that on corporations from two to six per cent.

Bill Sent Back to Committee.
AUSTIN, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The house of representatives today sent back to the labor committee a bill by Rep. Joe Ed Winfree of Houston to increase the maximum workman's compensation from $20 to $30 a week.

Would Abolish Ad Valorem Tax.
AUSTIN, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A proposal to abolish the state ad valorem tax on real estate, except the 7-cent levy for confederate pensions, turned up, in the senate today.
Sent. T. J. Holbrook of Galveston and R. A. Welner of Seguin introduced a resolution to submit such a constitutional amendment next August.

Holbrook said the proposal was intended to lift the burden of taxation off property and if adopted would force the legislature to seek new revenues.
The present maximum ad valorem levies are 35 cents per $100 for the general fund and a like amount for the school fund.
Remission of the tax for five years has been proposed in the house of representatives.

Judge May Leave State.
AUSTIN, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The senate gave unanimous approval today to Senator Franklin Spears' resolution permitting District Judge H. L. Howard to leave the state for 90 days because of illness.

Rebuffed again yesterday—this time by a decision of the Indiana supreme court—in his fight to drive the Northern Indiana Power company out of Huntington and serve the city exclusively from a municipal light plant, Mayor Bangs refused to give up.
The mayor, who has been in jail since last July 6 because he defied a court order directing him to disconnect consumers from the municipal plant, will have to remain behind bars so long as he is mayor or until he obeys the order, attorneys said. The supreme court upheld the injunction.
By staying in jail he hopes to continue operation of the city plant in the face of the decision.

SLAIN DOCTOR

Kenyon was rushed here immediately after the doctors' body was found in brushland 14 miles southwest of Willow Springs yesterday. The victim, lying face downward, bore two bullet wounds in the head and four in the body.

Federal agents seemed little impressed by Kenyon's claim he was only an accomplice. At Washington, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said the case was closed and no other suspects were being sought.

Physician Believed he was Called.
WILLOW SPRINGS, Mo., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Another physician disclosed today he may have been the recipient of a faked call for medical assistance the day Dr. J. C. B. Davis was kidnapped and slain.
Dr. L. M. Edens told of a "suspicious" telephone call Jan. 28 to go to Jack Fork. He was unable to go and said today he had thought the call might have been from the man who that day appeared as "Mr. James" and lured Dr. Davis away.

Sad-Faced Young Woman Robber Of Broadway Cafe

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A sad-faced young woman, dressed in deep mourning, held up a Broadway restaurant early today, frightened off a pursuer with a revolver, and escaped with more than $50.
The scene of operations was the Chin Lee restaurant, a dance-and-dine spot at 49th Street.
The woman waved away a waiter who attempted to serve her, then pulled a gun from her handbag and forced the Chinese cashier to hand over a roll of bills he was counting.
She turned from the desk and walked down the main stairs. Chin Mon, assistant manager ran after her. She turned, aimed the revolver and warned: "I'll kill you if you follow me."
Chin went back and called police.

Jolly Time Club Of Mildred High School Organizes

The Jolly Time Club of the Mildred High school held their meeting for reorganization Dec. 1936. The new members were initiated by the president, Dorothy Burnett. A short play was presented and coffee and cakes were served by the hostesses, Myra Jo Thomas and Martha Nell Bonner.

The Jolly Time Club of Mildred High school, organized in September, 1936, for the purpose of fostering an interest in home making, has made a commendable record this year.

The club has taken for its theme for the year, hospitality in the home, and in order to give the members experience in entertaining it has given a series of teas. One of which was a formal tea for the faculty and was one of the outstanding features of the year. Other outstanding entertainments have been the Mother-Daughter and Father-Son banquet and a football sweetheart carnival.

The girls are planning for another very active semester and are working for club plans.

LINDBERGH GIVEN HECTIC WELCOME IN ROME ON TUESDAY

WAS SAFE IN PISA LAST NIGHT WHILE OFFICIALS SOUGHT TO AID HIM

ROME, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Excited Romans gave the Charles A. Lindberghs a "hide and seek" welcome today at the end of a leisurely flight from Pisa, second stage of the birthday air jaunt that seemingly leads to Egypt.

In high spirits, they pursued the famous couple into a hangar, around the wings and "props" of planes and finally into an airport office.

The Lindberghs reached Littorio airport at 4:58 p. m. (10:57 a. m. eastern standard time). The American flier, presumably en route to Egypt, brought his new monoplane down near a crowd of 200 spectators which included Captain Thomas White, American air attaché, and Captain Thompson, American naval attaché.

Lindbergh lifted his wife from the ship and both ran for a hangar. Rushing their way through the crowd, they declined to answer questions.

When they arrived at the hangar door, an airport official tried to keep the crowd back but several persons broke through and dashed inside after them.

There, the "flying Lindberghs" played a hectic game of hide-and-seek with their pursuers. Scurrying around a dozen places.

Finally, they dashed into the airport office. The Colonel stood with his back to the office door, blocking the entrance.

Then he presented his papers to officials for customs formalities.

Their flight, over an air route of 125 miles along the Italian coast, took nearly two hours. They took off at 3 p. m. from the Pisa air field.

Almost immediately, said the Lindberghs probably would spend the night in Rome and go on tomorrow, perhaps to Brindisi.

Lindberghs Took In Sights Italian Town

PISA, Italy, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The flying Lindberghs paused for sightseeing in famous Pisa today after a roundabout flight to avoid a "terrific storm" over the Italian Alps.

The manager of the Hotel Vittoria, where the Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh registered under their own names, quoted the American flier as saying they landed at Pisa last night when their gasoline supply ran low during a long detour which they took to avoid the storm in the mountains.

The Lindberghs, enroute to a probable destination in Egypt, from Lyons, France, "had to make" the detour to keep away from the storm, the manager said the Colonel told him.

The flying couple, who arrived at Pisa about 6 p. m. last night, left Monday, CST, began a sight-seeing tour today, heading first for the famous leaning tower. There they peeped inside but did not climb up the hundreds of steps to the top.

Airport officials said they "believed" the Lindberghs were planning to fly to Rome, although the Colonel declined to disclose their ultimate destination.

They went directly to their hotel and spent quite a long time in the night while beacons burned in practically every country in Europe to guide them after absence of reports of their landing caused fears they might be in danger.

Airport officials here respected their wish for silence and, consequently, when their safe arrival was unreported as the time passed for their gasoline supply to be exhausted, rumors of accidents were heard.

This morning the famous fliers arose early and started on their expedition about the city, leaving word at the hotel they would be back for luncheon.

The air tourists were particularly drawn to Pisa's famous leaning tower when they saw workmen, at Premier Mussolini's orders, bolstering the structure to keep it from falling.

Lindbergh told airport authorities they expected to hop for Rome about 3 p. m. (8 a. m. CST). They planned to reach the Italian capital about an hour later.

SPANISH

The possibility of another German-Spanish incident arose in a report from Bilbao that a German soldier, said to be a nephew of Franz von Papen, Nazi minister to Austria, had been condemned to death by a Basque provincial court.

He was accused of possessing munitions when he was seized last Oct. 6 in the Ibañeta mountains.

Fierce Coast Fighting.

GIBRALTAR, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Fascist and socialist troops, contending for occupation of the southern seaport of Malta, clashed today in fierce fighting along the Mediterranean coast.

Reports reaching Gibraltar said insurgent soldiers, driving eastward from Marbella, occupied Ojuna, a town five miles north.

The fascist forces launched an attack on land, sea and in the air in their campaign to take the southern port.

Their fleet of warships steamed out of Algeiras shortly before dawn enroute to a position off the socialist-controlled shipping point.

Several truck loads of wounded arrived at La Linea and San Roque, where the sounds of gunfire could be faintly heard.

The wounded soldiers said a fierce battle is raging with the government troops defending their positions desperately against a major fascist attack.

They declared many socialist government militiamen had fallen in the defense of Ojen and during fighting in the hills surrounding the government fortifications.

Resisters Driven Out.

MADRID, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Government militiamen drove fascist besiegers out of some fortified positions today, successfully withstanding three insurgent counter-attacks.

The socialist troops seized encampments near a student residence in the city limits sector.

The infant army drives were signalized by heavy barrages from artillery batteries.

Premier Francisco Largo Caballero paid a brief visit to Madrid, visiting military hospitals and conferring with defense commanders.

MARITIME STRIKE

With the exception of voting by longshoremen in the northwest, where severe weather delayed distribution of ballots, the seven unions had completed balloting on peace proposals and results were being tallied up here.

Reports last night indicated marine firemen might not ratify a tentative agreement with offshore operators but such action will not prolong the strike. The firemen agreed to arbitrate issues in dispute.

Other agreements appeared to have been accepted by big mariners, and in some ports the voting was nearly unanimous.

One discordant note was heard from far away Honolulu, where striking longshoremen whose union has not been recognized, announced determination to block movement of ships unless demands were met.

There was activity aboard many of the 230 strikebound vessels, teup of which by the 98-day conflict caused a loss to coast business totaling as high as $886,000—$7,000,000 a day.

Emergency crews checked longed cold. Cargo holds were inspected. Smoke belched from stacks of some ships preparing to move into docks from anchorage.

A compilation by the shipowners' research bureau disclosed 117,296 tons of merchandise, exclusive of 5,414,000 bags of wheat, lumber, to be loaded from holds here, and 67,618 tons of cargo on piers waiting to be transferred, to ships.

"I will look the situation over when it arises and then decide," he said.

Capt. Phil Pack, national guard press officer, said that if the writ of attachment should issue, and the sheriff should report he was unable to serve it, Judge Paul F. Gadoia could call upon the national guard to enforce it.

He said he was informed the troops would act if requested by Judge Gadoia, who issued the injunction and from whom the writ of attachment will be sought.

More Rain Forecast.
Some rain was forecast for today in the affected states but conditions generally remained favorable.

The Red Cross and other agencies reported progress in systematizing the care of some 200,000 valley residents already forced from homes. Health conditions remained encouraging.

New work on the Hickman seawall was completed last night. The Redfoot levee also was in good shape.

The rising water had reached the bulkheading on the subsiding levee at Mellowood, Ark, but there was ample freeboard.

Floodwater from a break in the Hoxsie Landing levee all but encircled Tiptonville and spread over adjacent thousands of acres. Backwaters continued to harass lowland dwellers in Mississippi and Louisiana but engineers remained firm in the conviction the worst will be over when the crests pass Arkansas and Tennessee.

Troops Moving Into Flood Danger Area
SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The first big movement of troops from Fort Sam Houston to the flooded area in Southeast Arkansas got under way late yesterday when 300 officers and men were entrained for the flood stricken area.

Two of the six evacuation teams will be stationed at Hamburg, Ark., and four at Monticello, Ark. Each team is composed of two line officers, a medical officer, a first sergeant, five mess sergeants, a clerk, ten cooks, three truck drivers, two enlisted men from the medical department and 25 privates.

In a second train were 25 trucks which will be used by the teams. Sixty-five enlisted men from the signal companies, commanded by Captain K. F. March, entrained to set up radio equipment in the flooded district.

Despite the movement of troops from here, it was announced today that evacuation areas in danger in Arkansas had not been reached.

River Begins to Recede at Cairo
CAIRO, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—The Ohio river's menacing grasp on the city's staunch seawall slipped today by a pitifully small margin—2-100ths of a foot—but the meager recession strengthened the city's claim of victory in its fight against inundation.

Blasting open of the Birds Point-New Madrid, Mo., floodway cut down the Ohio's stage at one point during its threatening rise, but today it was the first from natural causes since the river went over the flood level Jan. 10.

The drop of approximately one-quarter of an inch came in 2 1/2 hours. The river then clung to a 59.60-foot stage, less than six inches from the top of the concrete seawall. An emergency bulkhead of timbers and earth stood three feet higher.

Veteran government forecaster W. E. Barron said the Ohio's stage will remain high for an "indefinite period." Col. R. G. Powell, chief of the army engineer Ohio river division, explained, "the river is spread out over so much territory that the present flood stage may be here for 12 or 13 days."

Another day of dredging brought five more levee workers' bodies from the spillway downstream in southeastern Missouri, raising to 20 the death toll of a Saturday night surge.

Ten men still were unaccounted for today.

Fire in Cincinnati.
CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Flames which for a time threatened a large section of west-end Cincinnati destroyed the Stille and Duhamel furniture factory and retail store rooms and the Art Wood Burning and Schor Co., early today with a loss semi-officially estimated at between $250,000 and $300,000.

Furniture destroyed included some that had been stored in the factory by flood-routed neighbors.

Two walls of the furniture firm's 5-story brick building and part of a third collapsed as floodwaters from the adjacent river poured in mud and ice to combat their third general alarm blaze in 11 days. Two firemen were injured by falling debris.

Monterrey Gives to Red Cross

Old New Orleans
Under Gaiety Rule
For Mardi Gras

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Gaiety—with a golden lining—look over New Orleans today for the five-day Mardi Gras festival. Mardi Gras—the climactic "fat Tuesday" before Ash Wednesday—begins nearly a week away but the spirit of Carnival rode high for tonight's inaugural event, the parade and ball of Momus, mythical god of mockery.

Thousands of early arrivals jammed their way into every available hotel room and overflowed into hundreds of private residences.

Bryan Bell, president of the New Orleans Association of Commerce, estimated 50,000 visitors would attend the carnival with a peak of nearly 100,000 for Mardi Gras. The amount they will spend has been variously estimated at $1,000,000 to $2,500,000. Added to this will be the extra $750,000 to $1,000,000 spent by New Orleans folk.

Ed Ragland returned last night from Leander, where he attended the funeral services of his brother, B. J. Ragland, of San Diego, who died in San Antonio early Monday morning from injuries received last Wednesday afternoon, seventeen miles west of San Antonio.

He was on his way home from a visit to his mother, Mrs. T. M. Ragland, who with three brothers, A. M. Ragland, San Diego, Ed Ragland, Corsicana and L. E. Ragland, of Alvin survive.

Old Man G. Hog Of Punxsutawney Sees Cold Ahead

GOBBLER'S KNOB, PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Feb. 2.—(AP)—The weather scout of Punxsutawney climbed high into the hills at dawn today seeking the "official" forecast by Brother Groundhog and—found a "sit-down strike" at the National Weather Works.

The venerable old "chuck" refused to come out of his hole; wouldn't even peek at the sunny skies, until, said emissaries of the scouts:

"We drove out an unwelcome intruder, either a polecat or the Quarryville pretender, who hands out those unofficial predictions over the east of the state."

Then, said a messenger who sped from the hills, Brother "Chuck"—the only real seer of seers able to tell the weather for the next six weeks, emerged, rubbed his eyes, exhaled deeply, looked at his shadow and predicted:

"Sixty weather is over. In the next six weeks, maybe two months, you're going to see more real weather than you ever dreamed of. No more buds peaking today to the rasping crescendo of a governmental Bronx cheer."

"The bare mention of his name is boring," snorted Joseph B. Tincer, chief of the weather bureau. "It's putting it mildly to say we're getting sick of that gentleman up here."

Not only did the weather chiefs ignore Candelmas—the day of world wide climatic forecasting, through February 2—but their telephone operators threatened to hang up on the next groundhog inquiry.

From the bureau of biological survey came this: "If anyone actually sees a groundhog trying to see his shadow," said Colonel H. P. Shelton, "our advice is—nab him. He's a pest."

LINDBERGH IS 35; CELEBRATED DAY IN THE ETERNAL CITY

ROME, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh and Gen. Italo Balbo swapped tales of transatlantic flying today—"Lindy's" 35th birthday. The Rome-to-Chicago airman, who expects the Lindberghs to visit him in Tripoli soon, flew from North Africa to attend a wedding. Shortly after his arrival he sent an officer to ask Lindbergh to visit him at his hotel.

A half-hour cordial conversation followed.

When they finished their meeting, Balbo smilingly insisted they both be photographed.

The bearded Balbo, probably will return tomorrow to his post as governor of the Italian colony of Libya to make ready for his distinguished guests.

Lindbergh—Charles Augustus—had his birthday wish and relics another Augustus left for eternal Rome 2,000 years ago.

Just when he and his wife would leave Rome for Egypt was doubtful.

Informed sources said they expected the Lindberghs to spend three or four days in the Italian colony of Libya, of which Gen. Balbo is governor, before resuming their flight from England to Egypt.

Lindbergh arose early and stepped out on the Academy's roof terraces to check the weather for his flight.

The monuments of the days of the Emperor Augustus lay far below him, still awashed in the morning mist. On one side was the Augustus forum, center of ancient imperial Rome; on the other was the great circular mausoleum which Augustus built as his tomb.

Steel Common Climbed to $100 On Stock Market

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(AP)—U. S. Steel, common, traditionally called the "bell weather" of the stock market, climbed to $100 a share today for the first time since May 22, 1931, and brokers and clerks on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange raised a shout that could be heard outside the big gray building at Broad and Wall.

In the boom days of 1929, "steel," as the share is known to traders, touched its record high of $261.75. In 1931, although some timorous souls warned of rioting if the stock sold below $50, it went as low as $35 a share, and the next year it sagged to $21.37.

SOCIAL SECURITY

As the Social Security Act is launched for a long cruise, Abraham Epstein, secretary of the American Association for Social Security, severely criticizes it. He finds fault chiefly on these grounds:

That it "makes practically no provision for the aged or middle-aged." Only people now young can expect to get a living income from it, and that only after 30 or 40 years of work.

That it makes no provision for the unemployed.

That the tax-credit system is complicated and hard to administer.

That the taxes are levied solely on workers and employers.

That the storing of large reserves from the "taxes" assessed is bad economics.

That it hastens the replacement of man-power by machinery.

Most of the charges are obviously true. The Social Security Act is admittedly an experiment new in this country and without much precedent to go on. Admittedly it doesn't cover all the ground, by a long way, that is needed if social security is to be general and adequate.

It is, however, a beginning. First steps are not irrevocable, and it can be improved and amplified as we go along. The main thing is for administrators and public to keep an alert and open mind.

PUSHING PEACE

An unusual movement is the Emergency Peace Campaign, an intensive educational peace drive planned to run for two years. The organization is non-political and non-sectarian, supported by people of many different lands, religions and occupations.

One part of the program is a widespread plea for tolerance and understanding among students of the world. There will be meetings with talks by noted people on all phases of war, folly, it causes, its terrific price to humanity, its ultimate failure to achieve its ends.

Perhaps the moving idea of the emergency peace campaign is found in the words of Dr. McGowan, leader in the Catholic Association for International Peace, who says:

"If European peace leadership can stave off a general conflict for one, two, three or five years, and in the meantime do something to put its house in order, a recurrence of world war might be averted. We must all strive to prevent war in a world that can't stand another war. We should help those leaders in Europe and Asia."

It may be an impossible ideal for this country, but it's worth trying.

PUPILS STUDY STRIKES

A men's club in another city was visited the other day, at a weekly luncheon meeting, by a ninth grade "social studies class." There were 20 boys and girls in the group, none of them more than 15 years old. They proceeded to hold a round table discussion of the General Motors strike.

First, a boy who was chairman said the class would consider the situation. He himself presented the simple facts of the strike—the number of workers affected, the dates of different shut-downs, and so on. Another member of the class then asked why there was a strike. Different pupils, announcing themselves as officials of the corporation, as representatives of the United Au-

THE SEARCHER

He had the eye himself to see:
The wisdom never to be wise
Or think that what he knows must be.

The last grim barrier which defies
All searching minds and prying eyes.

With what was known he would not stay.

One step beyond he tried to go:
To press ahead and probe the way
To find a fact men didn't know
And by that venture wiser grew.

"Wisdom," he said, "would hold you back
If you accept its final word
You'll merely tread the beaten track.

Where 'can't' incessantly is heard
And sleeping truths are never stirred.

"Impossible!" the sages cried.
"With setting of last evening's sun
But someone, doubting, deeper pried.
Today the task is being done.
Thus barriers tumble, one by one."

NO TEST IN CHELAN

Townsend Plan enthusiasts refuse to let that Chelan, Wash., pension experiment be a real test of the scheme. Fan mail from far and wide has been pouring in, and some of it has contained money contributions to boost the revolving fund which is supposed to be raised by a 2 per cent tax on every transaction involving any of the original $200. That is one way to raise money, but it obscures the point at issue. People won't go on forever contributing for such a purpose.

Other onlookers endanger the test by holding on to the original bills, thinking they will make interesting collectors' items some day. That stops the growth of the fund.

But even if these interferences were eliminated, the money rapidly circulated and the tax quickly collected and piled up into another $200 fund available for another pensioner, the test would still be incomplete. It would take much more time to discover what effects the tax would have on general business, how soon and high prices for all goods would soar, and how much subsequent pensions of 200 inflated dollars would be worth to the possessors. All this was gone into thoroughly months ago, but Chelan citizens seem determined to bring it up again.

CO-OPERATION.

Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, may not be a Solomon, but he certainly spoke wisdom when he told Britain's European neighbors the other day:

"We cannot cure the world with pacts and treaties. We cannot cure it by speeches, however lofty and peace-breathing they may be. There must be a will to co-operate which is unmistakable."

This is true not only in Europe, but in America. It is true not only in government, but in economics. It is true in agriculture and industry. It is true in the industrial troubles now threatening our business recovery.

Americans today almost unanimously believe that international war gets nations nothing but poverty and misery. It is the same with domestic war, including industrial conflict.

What we need right now is a "will to co-operate" in the automobile industry and all along the line.

tomobile Workers and of employees not in that union, in turn presented the company's side, the U. A. W.'s side, the non-union side.

Some one asked if there was hope of settlement. Other pupils then discussed the efforts being made by Gov. Murphy of Michigan and Secretary of Labor Perkins. Newspaper editorials on the strike were quoted. The meaning of "impasse" was brought out.

No one pretends that those youngsters might settle this or any other strike by their round table talks. But neither should it be questioned that they will be better prepared than some of their elders now are to understand and to help solve, when their turn comes, vital national problems.

That inauguration at Washington, an eye-witness reports, was a combination of singing and wringing in the rain.

Down in Front!ALL-AMERICAN PRESS

A follow-up conference at Valparaiso, Chile, January 8-15, brought together more than 150 newspaper men and women representing the press in many American countries. The purpose of the meeting was to further understanding among the American peoples through public prints and to support the aims of the recent Pan-American conference at Buenos Aires.

Delegates discussed Pan-American ideals and ways to promote cordial understanding among the Americas. They agreed on the wisdom of eliminating traditional errors and inaccuracies concerning the history of different countries and avoiding propaganda. They sought all possible ways to secure for the international press reliable and unbiased information.

This conference may be as important as the earlier conference of statesmen. Full and friendly co-operation and the free interchange of honest news are sure to promote peace in this hemisphere. Europe would be a saner and happier region today if its press were as free, frank and friendly as the press of this hemisphere is coming to be.

A "MIDDLE WAY"

In his interesting book, "Sweden, the Middle Way," Marquis W. Childs gives three facts: as mainly responsible for that country's success in maintaining prosperity while other nations have lived uncertainly amid wars, booms and depressions. Here they are:

First, Sweden has kept out of war for a century. Second, it keeps out of the armament race. Third, it has "compromised with the capitalist system for the general welfare by distributing purchasing power throughout the population."

Its economic system might be described roughly as one-third private enterprise, one-third public ownership and one-third voluntary co-operatives. These three methods get along with each other surprisingly well, and are kept in rough balance.

No country can satisfactorily take over the political and economic system of any other country, but the Swedish compromise makes an interesting study for free nations.

Roosevelt missed his usual weather luck on inauguration day, but his New Deal was singing in the rain.

Purdon Product Dislikes Praise For Cage Prowess

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 2.—(Spl.)—John Douglas Norton, S. M. U.'s sophomore basketball sensation dislikes publicity because "it ruins too many boys." The youngster, better known as J. D. or "Lightnin'", at present holds the conference record of 18 successive charity shots. The fast, shifty, elusive Mustang forward hails from Purdon, Texas, 20 miles south of Corsicana. His father, a farmer near Purdon, J. D., two brothers and one sister attended grammar and high school schools there.

In Purdon High, under the direction of Coach Howard Wade, Norton lettered four years in basketball and baseball, and one year in track and football. His highest score for a single game registered 46, when Purdon drubbed Irene, 88-15, in 1933. While a senior he never scored less than 15 points per game.

"Lightnin'" is a deceptively frail-looking lad of 6 feet 3 inches, blond hair and blue eyes. He majors in physical education and wants to coach the court game after graduation. He also admits a liking for pro-basketball, and would like to play, "if I'm ever good enough."

The present rules set-up is okay with him except for the limitation leaving only one man in the circle at tip-off; the elimination of the tip-off is six of one and a half-dozen of the other according to J. D.'s reasoning.

Sleaks, potatoes, and plenty of vegetables form the Mustang's diet. Vanilla ice cream and milk also make an excellent dessert for the tired basketballer after workouts. Norton dislikes books, "funny papers, and motion pictures. Along the feminine line, he prefers blondes, that is 'If I have to prefer any type at all.'"

Baseball is the other sport Norton will participate in while at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Lee, 6801 Baltimore Drive, Dallas.

Miss Brown is well-known in Corsicana and visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Williams and the Misses McCreary during the Christmas Holidays. She was spending the winter with her brother, E. R. Brown, and niece, Mrs. George T. Lee, in Dallas.

STATE AND COUNTY TAX COLLECTIONS PAST WEEK HIGH

State and county tax collections last week at the office of T. A. (Tom) Farmer, assessor and collector of taxes, amounted to $105,368.01. It was announced Tuesday morning after a check had been made. This figure does not include the taxes paid by a number of the independent school districts, levee improvement districts, roads, beer licenses and occupation taxes, Farmer pointed out.

Discussing the tax payments, Farmer said that from the volume of mail yet to be opened in his office, the collection of current taxes would be "about normal," but that a considerable decline of poll tax payments was apparent. There will be about 5,500 poll taxes paid as compared with a normal of between 8,000 and 10,000 polls.

The state receives $27,751.85 of last week's collections while Navarro county's share is $77,616.16.

How would you define A COMMERCIAL BANK?

THE American Bankers Association, in its recently issued "Statement of Principles of Commercial Banking," defined a commercial bank as:

"A financial institution, chartered and supervised by the state or federal government primarily to receive deposits and provide for credit needs. It operates under specific laws, regulations and limitations which emphasize that the bank's primary obligation is to serve the public interest."

The officers and directors of our bank wholeheartedly endorse this definition of the purpose and scope of a commercial bank. We, especially, believe that our primary obligation is "to serve the public interest."

The reputation, prestige and success of our bank has been built on this foundation of public service. We believe that our future as a business organization and semi-public institution depends upon continuing adherence to this principle. Our constant goal is to render a helpful service to the daily business life of this community.

QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING

"Why do Banks charge higher interest than they pay?"

We believe these facts will readily indicate why the interest which a bank charges on loans must be at a higher rate than that which the same bank can pay on savings or time deposits:

1. A considerable proportion of a bank's resources, at any given time, are uninvested; they must be kept available to meet the possible demands of depositors.
2. A large proportion are invested in government bonds which pay an extremely moderate return.
3. Operating expenses—including rent, salaries, equipment, taxes, and occasional losses—must be covered largely by earnings from loans and investments—by saying nothing of a moderate return to the bank's stockholders on their invested capital.

The difference in rate paid on money deposited and money loaned is analogous to the difference in wholesale and retail prices in trade—it helps to pay operating costs.

BARRY GIRLS WON OVER EMHOUSE IN ROUND-ROBIN GAME

TWO OTHER INTERESTING GAMES UNREEL ON LOCAL Y COURT

To determine the top-ranking team out of three tied for first place in the Y. M. C. A. sponsored county girls basketball league, a round-robin tournament is being played on the Y court, and last night Barry defeated Emhouse 18-13 in a thrilling game. Currie is the other team in the triumvirate.

In two other games last night, the Y reserves defeated Kerens high school boys 27-18, and Navarro high school girls extended the count with the Navarros (former county high school players, now sporting the silks of the Y. M. C. A.) 28-15, calling now for a third rendezvous of the sextets to determine which is the better of the reserves.

McClanahan, horns-woggled, the scoring with 15 points, resulting from seven field goals and one free shot. Tramel of Kerens was second, pacing his mates with a grudge total of six points.

When the Navarro and Navarros played, Dr. Harward carried the offense into the enemy's territory with an even dozen points. Compton did a beautiful job of sinking seven free throws unerringly and adding a field goal for nine points, for Navarro, which matched nine points for Knight, first ranking Navarros' scorer.

DeLafosse of the losing delegation made eight, and Marsh on the other side tallied seven. Watkins, Barry's celebrated forward, led in the last game with 10 points. Next in position were Currie, in the collar with one played, none won and one lost. The next game, between Barry and Currie will be played some time next week.

Husband Twelve Year Old Girl Is Charged With Rape

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Feb. 4.

—(P)—Stanley Backus, 19, factory worker husband of 12-year old Leona Elizabeth Backus was formally charged with rape today while legislators at Albany discussed new laws to curb "cradle marriages."

District Attorney Carl J. Hynes presented a warrant to City Judge C. J. Phillips charging Backus, a $25 a week car painter, with rape in an air brake plant, with rape, child seduction and incest while in Mercy Hospital where she was taken for a physical examination decided upon. Hynes said, after she told authorities she expected to become a mother.

Hynes said the youth and the girl had admitted intimate relationship prior to their marriage at Carthage on January 15. The parents had sanctioned the marriage.

Tennessee Senate Acts.—(P)—Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 4.—(P)—Without a dissenting vote, the Tennessee senate passed a bill today designed to prevent child marriages, such as the recent one of 3-year-old Eunice Winstead and 22-year-old, 22 in isolated Hancock county.

The bill provides any marriage where either party is under 14 shall be "null and void" and can be annulled upon the petition of any person.

Auto Strike (Continued From Page One) Discussions of the possibility of martial law in Flint have been going on since the outbreak of the national guard on duty there as well as by Governor Murphy from whom the order for such action would have to come. It was known, however, that the governor was prepared to make it effective on a moment's notice should the order issue.

Roy E. Brownell, General Motors attorney, said a petition for the election writ had been prepared but filing of it might be delayed until tomorrow pending outcome of the governor's conference.

The third meeting of the conferees, summoned at "the wish of the president of the United States," assembled in the chambers of Recorder's Judge George Murphy, a brother of the governor, in the municipal courts building.

It was in the same room that the governor William S. Knudsen, executive vice-president of General Motors; John D. Lewis, U. A. W. A. president, and John Thomas Smith, of General Motors counsel, conferred for more than eight hours in two sessions yesterday.

Joining the conference today were Lee Pressman, C. I. O. attorney, and Donaldson Brown, financial officer of General Motors.

Seeks Truce Period It was learned authoritatively that Governor Murphy was seeking to arrange a truce period during which final settlement negotiations might be carried on. A source indicated final solution of the strikes was not a subject under discussion.

Observers expressed belief the question of collective bargaining and plant occupancy by strikers would be under discussion. One of the union demands presented more than a month ago was that it be designated the "sole" bargaining agency on behalf of employees.

The continued occupancy of General Motors plants by strikers has presented one of the major obstacles to a settlement conference.

The corporation obtained an ouster injunction at Flint last Tuesday, with 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon as the deadline, but apparently because of the conferees now in progress without a settlement indicated final solution of the strikers remained in possession.

To Go Before Judge. At Flint counsel for General Motors was unable to get before Judge Paul V. Gadola and present proof the premises had not been vacated. Flint remained quiet this morning after yesterday's quietest day, by strikers' pickets and women emergency brigade, a union auxiliary.

Gov. Frank Murphy appeared pleased with the undisturbed results of the order with representatives of the corporation and the union as he called the conferees to another meeting here (at 9 a. m. CST).

Another factor reducing the union's pledge to refrain from congregating in such numbers as to hinder traffic, to carry no clubs and to notify public officials of plans for parades or rallies.

Defying an injunction which provides a $15,000 penalty for violation, sit down strikers occupied the Fisher No. 1 and 2 plants at Flint for the 37th day. Twelve hundred Michigan national guardsmen maintained their lines about a sector which included the No. 2 plant and the big Chevrolet assembly factory, where another sit down started Monday.

Following the strikers' defiance of an evacuation court injunction yesterday, both Circuit Judge Paul V. Gadola, who issued the injunction, and Sheriff Thomas W. Wolcott, who was charged with enforcing it, said the next move was up to General Motors, which took no apparent action to seek removal of the "sit-downers."

Perkins Revolution Tabbed. WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(P)—The house today tabled a resolution which would have required Secretary Perkins to furnish all available information on the current automobile strikes.

It acted a few minutes after Chairman Cawley (D-Mass) had said not a single member of his labor committee "endorses the sit-down strike."

TEXAS AFFECTED BY FLOOD CONTROL PLAN GIVEN TO CONGRESS

IRRIGATION, WATER CONSERVATION AND STREAM POLLUTION INVOLVED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(P)—The National Resources Committee suggested today an immediate $33,000,000 construction program in the Western Gulf area for flood control, irrigation, water conservation and correction of stream pollution.

The committee said "intense local storms and flash, violent floods" are characteristic of much of the drainage area. Flood control works in the Trinity, Brazos, Colorado, Guadalupe, Nueces and Lower Rio Grande basins "is important."

To supplement a "disconnected, inadequate system of levees" built by local interests, the committee said four of 13 dams proposed by the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation district should be built as soon as possible.

The committee also recommended that the Marshall Ford dam on the Colorado river be raised to provide greater storage. A recommendation also was made for speedy completion of the lower Rio Grande flood control program which is half completed.

"The most serious problem in the entire district is along the Trinity river," the group said. "Narrowing of the river below Dallas is virtually an open sewer. This condition should be corrected by improvement and enlargement of the sewage-disposal plant at that city. Additional work should be made to the sewage systems of Houston and many smaller municipalities."

Lower Rio Grande Water. The committee said use of power in the Rio Grande valley is of international concern and warned against rapid depletion of water because of irrigation developments in Mexico. Prospective shortages, it added, could be obviated by major reservoir construction on the main stream, by international co-operation.

Major projects and their estimated cost in the committee's suggested program: Sabine-Neches waterway enlargement from Sabine Pass to Port Arthur, and Orange 1, $7,900,000; Beaumont Houston ship channel, channel to Galveston, dredged to 20 feet and width increased, $2,800,000; intracoastal waterway extension from Sabine river to Corpus Christi, $3,800,000 (first two years' cost);

Flood control: Lower Colorado river, increase capacity of Marshall Ford Dam, $8,000,000; Brazos river, to complete Possum Kingdom dam, $6,600,000; Lower Rio Grande, levees and floodways, $3,200,000.

Dallas, sewer and sewage treatment improvements, $1,320,000. Water supply: Houston improvements, $1,000,000.

THOSE EXERCISES.

A WAY TO EXERCISE.
Exercises for slenderness or beauty are always a bore. But today Miss Forbes suggests a pleasant and an economical solution for you.

E. K. Forbes

Perhaps you hate exercising most women do. I agree that it is a pill which needs sugar coating, so if you can get your exercise by dancing, swimming, skating, or playing golf, so much the better. But some of us can't do that. A lot of us can manage to walk, saving carfare and getting the benefits of fresh cold air. But also, a lot of us live in places where the distances are too long for walking, and we almost have to drive.

I'd suggest, for country or village people, the good old bicycle. If you could strap a basket onto a wheel, and cycle five to ten miles every day or so doing your household shopping this way, you would find your leg muscles getting firm, your ankles stronger and slender, your round shoulders straighter, your chest improved, and your body benefited. You save gas for your car as well, if that happens to interest you, though the physical improvement is certainly worth more.

Hollywood started this craze a while ago, the best fad the film colony ever started. Stars who were obviously getting tumblers and hips started wheeling around the studios, and pushing bikes around the quieter roads leading to their big houses in the hills above the town itself. And it was very good for them. At Palm Springs, every one goes on a wheel and ride for an hour a day. It's fun too. And you can borrow your brother's wheel if you want, for you are safest cycling in trousers. For in a weather, long flannel slacks are best, rolled back on the ankles.

JOHN C. V. If you wish, you may easily give your scalp an oil treatment. Make it convenient and you will be apt to keep to it regularly. For instance, give yourself the treatment on a night that you have time for it, and may also give yourself a shampoo the following morning. Warm the oil too, and rub it into the scalp between parted strands of the hair, so you will get it distributed evenly in this way. As a very extra shampoo, rub an egg or two into the scalp a half hour before the shampoo, long enough ahead so the egg will dry and pick up all the dried particles of scale over the scalp. Several lathers and rinses with each will be needed to remove all the oil and egg from the hair; also, hot water, hot rinsing, with cooler, and finally very cold water to close the pores and stimulate the circulation again in the scalp. If your hair appears to be too dry after the shampoo, place a couple of drops of some fine oil into one palm, and rub both palms together, using these to go over head, and pick up every dry flying end of hair. You must not rub even this small amount of oil over the entire head, as all collects easily, just touch over so lightly the ends, and they fall in place at once. If your scalp feels tight, massage it regularly, keeping it loosened from the bones of the head, and the blood circulating through it. If the circulation is poor, anything can happen, as the skin does not function healthfully, then scale follows: in fact, dandruff, and other unhealthy states.

Tomorrow—Face Massage.

SPECIALTIES AGAIN ADVANCE BUT MANY GAINS CANCELED

U. S. STEEL REACHES PAR FOR FIRST TIME IN SIX YEARS THURSDAY

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Reports that a break was near in the General Motors strike deadlock brought late improvement in the specialties market.

Automotive leaders braced and oils and specialties emerged with gains of fractions to 2 points.

Profit margins for a number of groups within bounds and losses were plentiful at the close. Transactions approximated 2,300,000 shares.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Specialties pushed to the fore in today's stock market but many of the leaders, after posting new recovery prices, met sufficient resistance to reduce or cancel early improvement of fractions to 2 points.

U. S. Steel provided the sensation of the session with an opening block of 5,000 shares changing hands at par the first time since May, 1931.

The cheering of brokers and clerks on the floor of the stock exchange, however, was short-lived as the chief steel issue fell back.

Having gained for five consecutive days, General Motors advanced the suggestion the list was entitled to at least a temporary rest.

Business news continued as a supporting influence and an assortment of shares seemed to hold gains up to two points.

Bonds were quiet and narrow. Major commodities pointed upward.

Efforts to settle the General Motors strike apparently were counteracting obstacles and this stock, along with Chrysler, was unable to make headway.

Wall Street still entertained the opinion, though, this labor impasse would be overcome before long.

On the upside a point or more at one time were Bethlehem, Wheeling Steel, Vanadium, Walworth, Omnibus, Hollander and Son, Yellow Truck, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Hiram Walker, Deere, Great Northern, Delaware and Hudson, Atlantic Coast Line, Inspiration Copper, McCrory Stores, Spiegel Inc., and Standard Oil of N. J.

Displaying a lower drift were Loew's, General Electric, American Encaustic Tiling, Douglas Aircraft, American Can, Anaconda, Kennecott, International Paper, Westinghouse, Montgomery Ward and U. S. Rubber.

Curb Slow.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Minor specialties were registered in the curb market today as the trading tempo fell to a slow beat.

Few stocks had broken out of fractional ranges late in the morning and gains and losses were all contained within a few points.

Several high-priced shares, such as Aluminum Co. of America and Sherwin Williams stood about a point up. McWilliams Dredging, selling in the medium price section, advanced nearly a point.

Small setbacks were suffered by Lake Shore Mines, American Gas and Electric and Sunshine Mining.

CHILD UNWITTINGLY LEADS TO SOLVING KIDNAPING OF 1933

THREE MEN HELD IN CONNECTION O'CONNELL KIDNAPING IN ALBANY

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Information given by a part from the investigation of a 5-year-old girl drew the law's net today on the last of 10 men indicted for the kidnaping of John J. O'Connell and ended a three-year, nationwide hunt.

A result three men—John O'Leary, Percy "Angel Face" Geary and Harold "Red" Crowley—faced arraignment today in a Brooklyn Federal court on charges of kidnaping the Lindbergh kidnap law.

They were arrested in surprise raids on Brooklyn apartments yesterday.

Meanwhile Francis O'Leary, brother of John, was jailed in Denver when he could not raise the $50,000 bond demanded after he pleaded innocent to a similar charge.

O'Connell, young National Guard lieutenant and member of a politically powerful Albany family, was seized in the summer of 1933. Authorities charged he was abducted by a "hobby" hideout until a $40,000 ransom was paid by his uncles, Daniel and Edward O'Connell, democratic leaders.

Francis O'Leary was arrested with his wife in Denver recently. District Attorney John A. Carroll of Denver said that while investigators were searching the home, they found a "Mommy keeps letters upstairs under my pillow."

Federal authorities said the letters, signed "John and Aggie," contained information that led to the conviction of Geary, John O'Leary and Crowley.

A detective magazine fap, Carroll related, also told him he had studied descriptions of men hunted in the abduction as "hobby" and believed one was living quietly in Denver's prosperous Park Hill section.

Carroll said his informant, who would not name him, "doubtless" was entitled to the $15,000 reward offered in the case by Albany County.

The district attorney ordered investigators to watch the address. One reached aboard the man's automobile as he halted at a stoplight Saturday while driving his daughter, Patricia. This was the start of the breakdown of the case.

RESIDENTS OF DUST BOWL ARE HOPING FOR SUFFICIENT RAIN TO MAKE CROP COMING SEASON

By PAUL D. SHOEMAKER Associated Press Editor

Associated Press Editor

These are tensely expectant days in the "dust bowl" because there is a "chance" for a crop—if sufficient precipitation comes within the month.

Already this year, however, farmers have seen the dust specter. Swirling dust has visited the Southwest even on days when flood waters were devastating cities less than a thousand miles away.

But agriculturists say there is more moisture in the subsoil, even though the topsoil is dry, than there was at this season for several years.

The farmers, and business men, too, feel that nature owes the area a lot of precipitation and it surely will come soon, they hope the subsoil moisture will keep what alive meantime and that the wind won't blow too hard.

Otherwise, without rain, 1937 will repeat a repetition of 1934-35 and 36, and some already are predicting a bit sickly looking, will be denuded.

Least hopeful of all the "dust bowl" area is Southwestern Colorado, where precipitation is badly needed.

Earl Wall, editor of the Hardesty vintner, decided he had about all the "vitamin K" or dust-laden air, that he needed and was preparing to move to Polo, Missouri.

January snow left 28 inches of moisture on his 350 acres of wheat, which he changed his mind and will see it through.

Texas county's agricultural agent, H. C. Hyer, judges the wheat crop now as nearly normal for the first time at this season since 1933.

Plenty of moisture is needed from now on, he declared.

In the "dust bowl" section of Texas, D. Hanna, extension department agent, said conditions reflect a material improvement in comparison with the 1936 picture. Approximately one and one-half inches of rain in the Texas panhandle has been terraced or contained during the last year to catch and hold moisture, Hanna said.

LOCAL RESERVES WON OVER MILDRED TUESDAY EVENING

CORSICANA JOURNEYS TO WAXAHACHIE FOR TITLE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Mexia Black Cats, presenting the strongest cage team seen on the local courts this season, Tuesday night again won over the Corsicana Tigers, leading throughout the contest. The Felines won, 36-25, but the game was closer than the score indicated as the Limestone county lads uncorked a scoring spurt in the closing minutes of the game. The Tiger reserves won, 24-17, over the Mildred Eagles in the curtain-raiser attraction.

Led by Moody, forward, who accounted for 17 points during the evening, the Black Cats forged ahead in the opening minutes of play and never were headed. The Black Cats led, 8-5, at the end of the first quarter and 17-9 at the half. The tally sheet showed Mexia 26, Corsicana 19, at the beginning of the third period.

Burney, Cat center, turned in 11 points, while Wilson, Corsicana center led the losing aggregation with eight points, all made in the last half.

Bonner and Marks Starred.
The reserves forged ahead early in the second period, but Bonner, Mildred forward, broke loose to send a number of spectacular shots through the basket and Corsicana was leading, 10-9, at the half. Three sensational shots by Marks, substitute forward for the reserves, accounted for all of the points amassed by the local team in the second quarter.

Corsicana drew away from the Eagle club in the final period after visiting aggregation tired. Inclement weather and road conditions have prevented the Mildred lads from practicing at their gymnasium for the past two weeks. The team did remarkably well considering the lack of practice.

INCOME-TAX DON'TS

DON'T prepare your return without first studying the instructions on the form.

DON'T procrastinate. Early assembling of data permits a careful consideration of all tax problems.

DON'T destroy the memoranda from which your return was prepared.

DON'T omit explanation when such information is essential to an intelligent audit. Attach memoranda to your return.

No. 3
When To Report Income From Salaries, Wages, Etc.

Of the millions of income-tax returns that are filed annually, the vast majority are from salaried persons and wage earners whose income is derived from personal services.

In general compensation for personal services should be reported for taxation purposes in the year it is received or, if unqualifiedly made subject to demand, compensation credited to the account of or set apart for a taxpayer, without any substantial limitation or restriction, and which may be drawn upon by him at any time, is subject to tax for the year during which so credited or set apart, although not then actually reduced to possession. If the services were rendered during the year 1936, or even prior thereto, but the compensation was not received, or made unqualifiedly subject to demand, by the taxpayer until the year 1937, the entire amount is taxable in the year received, or made unqualifiedly subject to demand, when the taxpayer is reporting on the cash receipts and disbursements basis, which is the basis used by most persons in reporting net income.

The names of all employees to whom payments of $1,000 or over a year are made must be reported. The information return should be made on form 1099, accompanied by transmittal form 1036 showing the number of returns on or before February 15, 1937.

All of the various types of compensation, unless specifically exempt by statute, or exempt by fundamental law, should be included in the taxpayer's return of gross income, such as salaries, wages, fees, commissions, bonuses, tips, honoraria, prizes, awards, retiring allowances for past services, etc. Where services are paid for in whole or in part with something other than money, the fair market value of the thing taken in payment must be included as income. Other items subject to tax are fees received by ministers of the gospel for funerals, baptisms, marriages, and like services; exorbitant fees; directors' fees; federal jury fees; and prizes received in contests of various kinds.

The salaries of federal officers and employees are subject to tax, including the salary of the President of the United States and judges of courts of the United States taking office after the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1932, which was June 6, 1932. The salaries of the Vice President of the United States and the salaries of Members of the House of Representatives and the Members of the United States Senate are also subject to income tax.

No. 4
Who Must File Returns.

Returns are required of every single person who for the year 1936 had a gross income of $5,000 or more or a net income of $1,000 or more and of every husband and wife living together who for the year 1936 had an aggregate gross income of $5,000 or more or an aggregate net income of $2,500 or more. Widowers, widows, divorcees, and married persons separated by mutual consent are classed as single persons. The personal exemption is $1,000 for single persons and $2,500 for married persons living together and for heads of families.

Husband and wife living together may make separate returns of the income of each, or their income may be included in a single joint return. If separate returns are filed, one may not report income which belongs to the other, but must report only the income which actually belongs to him. If a joint return is filed, such return is treated as a taxable unit, and the income disclosed is subject to both the normal tax and the surtax.

Husband and wife may elect each year whether to file a joint return or separate returns. Where, however, joint or separate returns have been filed for a particular year, neither husband nor wife may after the due date of the return file an amended return or returns on a different basis for that year.

No. 5
Personal Exemptions.

In addition to the personal exemption of $1,000 for single persons and $2,500 for married persons living together and for heads of families, a taxpayer is entitled to a credit of $400 for each dependent, defined by incometax law and regulations as a person under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective. The term "mentally or physically defective" means not only cripples and those mentally defective, but persons in ill health and the aged.

In order to be entitled to the $400 credit, the taxpayer must furnish the dependent his or her chief support. The credit is based upon actual financial dependency and not mere legal dependency. For example, a father whose children receive half or more of their support from a trust fund or other separate source is not entitled to the credit.

Neither relationship nor residence is a factor in the allowance of the $400 credit for a dependent. The taxpayer and the dependent may be residents of different cities. If husband and wife both contribute to the support of the dependent, the $400 credit may be taken by the one contributing the chief support, and may not be divided between them.

A single person who supports in his home an aged or infirm person not only to the $400 credit for a dependent but also to the personal exemption of $2,500 as the head of a family. A widow supporting under similar circumstances a dependent child under 18 years of age also is entitled to the personal exemption of $2,500 as the head of a family, plus the $400 credit for a dependent.

Under the Revenue Act of 1936 both the personal exemption and the credit for dependents are required to be prorated where the status of the taxpayer changed during the year.

No. 6
Normal Tax and Surtax Rates.

The Revenue Act of 1936 provides for only one normal tax rate, that is, 4 per cent on the amount of the net income in excess of the allowable credits such as the personal exemption, credit for dependents, etc. The act provides for an additional credit for the purpose of the normal tax of an earned income credit, that is, 10 per cent of the amount of the earned net income but not in excess of 10 per cent of the amount of the net income.

The personal exemption and credit for dependents are also allowable as credits against the net income for the purpose of the surtax, the resulting net income being designated "surtax net income." The surtax is imposed on surtax net incomes in excess of $4,000. The rates increase in accordance with the amount of surtax net income included in varying so-called surtax brackets.

On a surtax net income of $4,000 or less there is no surtax. On a surtax net income in excess of $4,000 and not in excess of $5,000, the rate is 5 per cent of such excess in addition to the $80, or a surtax of $180 upon a surtax net income of $5,000. The surtax on a surtax net income of $5,000 or more is $3,581.00, and upon a surtax net income in excess of $5,000, the rate is 5 per cent of such excess in addition to the $80, or a surtax of $180 upon a surtax net income of $5,000. The surtax on a surtax net income of $5,000 or more is $3,581.00, and upon a surtax net income in excess of $5,000, the rate is 5 per cent of such excess in addition to the $80, or a surtax of $180 upon a surtax net income of $5,000.

Many taxpayers make the error of applying the maximum rate instead of the rate provided for in the bracket in which their surtax net income is included.

Following is an example of how to compute the tax on a net income of $8,500, all of which represents earned net income, the taxpayer being single and without dependents:

Net income..... $8,500
Less personal exemption..... 1,000
Balance, (surtax net income)..... 7,500
Earned income credit..... 850
Net income subject to normal tax..... 6,650

Surtax at 4 per cent on amount of surtax net income in excess of $4,000 but not over $5,000, 4 per cent on $2,000..... 80
Surtax at 5 per cent on amount of surtax net income in excess of $5,000 but not over $8,000, 5 per cent on $1,500..... 75
Total surtax..... 155
Normal tax, 4 per cent on $6,650..... 266

Total normal tax and surtax..... 421

"Taxpayers" are advised to read carefully the instructions on form 1040 relating to the earned-income credit and surtax, as well as all other instructions thereon, before preparing their returns.
